

First year project 2025

How anisotropic distribution of protein can help organize wound healing

